LAST BIG BATTLE OPENS OVER TREATY

League of Nations Will Win, Is Opinion of Close Observers —What Figures Show

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—The filing of the majority and minority reports by the foreign relations committee has opened the last and most intense engagement in the Senate over the League of Nations. This battle, consisting of a series of engagements, bids fair to last several weeks, and outrival anything that has come before the upper house of Congress in many decades.

Close observers, those who check each doubtful Senator's qualms and emotions daily are still strongly of the opinion that the League of Nations as espoused by Woodrow Wilson appears the winner. In this they are assured by the admitted collapse of the attempt to kill the Peace Treaty without resorting to cover, and the belief that all similar attempts under the guise of amendments and reservations appear equally certain to fail.

The judge or majority report stresses the point that the committee has the Treaty but six weeks, whereas the peace conference took six months to prepare the treaty. But, it is frequently asked, when in all history did it take as long to destroy as to build? Considering that the antagonistic Senators were blindly assailing the League of Nations months before they knew the details, the complaint of inadequate time has not made an impression.

But the minority report takes up the cudgels promptly and points out the commercial unrest the world over that can be directly traced to the delay incident to preparing a majority report that all Senator Lodge's "kill-the-League-some-way" colleagues could agree to, in the following language:

"The industrial world is in ferment, the financial world in doubt, and commerce halts while this great delay in the peace settlement has been caused by the majority of a committee known to be out of harmony with the majority of the Senate and the majority of the people. This is government by obstruction as well as by a minority."

Not daring to openly assert that President Wilson had kept anything from them at the famous White House meeting between the chief executive and the members of the foreign relations committee, the report of the majority by implications says that nothing was gleaned on that occasion, being another excuse for delay in reporting the treaty.

What evidently was considered a "bell-ringer" argument by Senator Lodge and his cohorts already has become a source of amusement. This point was the amount of export business transacted by the United States with Germany since the armistice.

"Between that event and the end of July," announced the Lodge report, "we have exported to Germany goods valued at $11,270,624" thus disapproving the Administrations claim that channels of trade with Germany would be closed until the Peace Treaty was ratified.

"The claim by the majority of this committee that we have exported over eleven million dollars worth of goods to Germany since the armistice and without peace settlement is no doubt true. To other countries during the same period we exported over five thousand million dollars worth. What was exported to Germany as stated by the majority report was practically nothing. It is only 14 cents worth of American products for each person in Germany in seven months or 2 cents per person per month, yet the majority report boasts of it as evidence of trade revival in spite of treaty delay. The same statesman gravely assure us that their figures prove that it is a mere delusion to say we cannot trade with Germany till a peace settlement is made. Two cents per month per person is hardly trading with Germany".

Meanwhile another bit of perplexity has arisen to bother the irreconcileable elements that Senator Lodge has failed to whip into an agreement to kill the League of Nations, and hence the entire Peace Treaty. The "New York Sun", one of the most violent opponents of the League, recently propounded a series of questions to a "high French government official" in regard to the Lodge amendments and reservations, the replies to three of which are regarded as deeply significant:

One of the questions was "Would care."

The Weather

Probably showers tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight central and east portions.

RECORD CROWD AT CARNIVAL TUESDAY

Another large crowd was out to the carnival grounds Tuesday evening to see the splendid line of shows being offered by the Rubin & Cherry carnival. It has been pronounced by those in attendance to be the cleanest and most refined organization that has ever visited Richmond. The boys selected by the Elks' Improvement League for ticket duty for Thursday evening will report at the main ticket office at seven o'clock: J. P. Chenaud, T. H. Reeves, R. E. Millon, Ott Powers, Leslie Green, J. B. Deatherage, Bennett Farris, Frank Devore, J. G. Baxter, John Noland, W. A. Johnson, John White, E. H. Ellis, Bill Millard, F. H. Gordon, Dave Powers and Luther Powell.

RICHMOND BOY RETURNS FOR SHORT VISIT

Mr. June W. Wiggins, who has been in the employ of Mason & Hanger at Charleston, S. C., for the past sixteen months, is here on a visit to his mother this week. He stayed with the company until they finished their contract in that city, and for the past three weeks has been connected with one of the largest wholesale grocery concerns in Charleston. He is being warmly welcomed by his many friends in his home town.

Acquitted In Jackson County

Hugh Baker, charged with killing Deputy Sheriff Jim "Hatchet" Baker in Clay county several months ago, was acquitted in the Jackson Circuit Court at McKee.

Baker was killed in a pitched battle between his posse and a number of men resisting arrest on charges of making or selling whiskey. Several shootings have occurred in Clay county since the killing of Baker. Robt. Hensley, prominent farmer, was killed from ambush only a few weeks ago. Fear of further bloodshed caused the change of trial to Laurel and Jackson counties of the feud cases. So far two men have been convicted and several others are yet to be tried.

BUYS NICE RESIDENCE

Mr. H. B. Riddleberger bought of Mrs. Barney Kelley her nice residence on 4th street, now occupied by Mrs. L. R. Blanton. Price $2800. Possession will be given Jan. 1st. such reservations (those submitted in the majority report) be regarded as equivalent to amendments," and the answer was, "Yes, without doubt."

Another was "Would such reservations have to be accepted by all the signatories before they would be valid as applying to membership in the League of Nations", the answer being, "Most certainly," Germany, it will be remembered, was one of the signatories.

Still another query was, "Would France object to any of the reservations," and the answer to this was "That they seemed highly dangerous to the Treaty, but as there appeared to be little chance that they would be accepted the question was hardly worth discussing."

Meanwhile the President's announcement in the West that pro-Germanism was again raising its head in America is being borne out in the Senate of the United States.

Senators with large German constituencies have been notable in their attacks on the President and the League, and fervid in their protestations of so-called Americanism and Nationalism. Frequenters of the capitol notice that certain Senate galleries are invariably packed when one of these speeches is to be delivered, and that these appeals to patriotism—which Dr. Samuel Johnson several hundred years ago termed in his vigorous style "the last resort of scoundrels"—are greeted with applause by spectators who leave their seats as soon as the orating Senator has taken his seat.

One of the most unhappy men in the Senate just now is Senator Spencer of Missouri, Republican. He threw a monkeywrench into the Lodge-Borah machinery some weeks ago by suggesting compromise reservations, and then lost the support of some of the so-called "mild reservationists" by back-tracking at the behest of the majority of the foreign relations committee. Now he does not know whether he is flesh or fowl, and neither side appears to

GENERAL PERSHING HEADS PARADE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 17.—Amid a roar of welcome, General Pershing led the First Division of the American Expeditionary Forces up Pennsylvania avenue today to receive the nation's homage. It was the last grand review of war time armies. The victory parade reached a climax when General Pershing passed under the victory arch, where Vice President Marshall, representing President Wilson, received the General's salute. Behind him were picked thousands of composite regiments of "Pershing's own." The din was deafening as they passed rank on rank, a perfect fighting machine groomed to regular army perfection.

USE MORE DYNAMITE IN LOUISVILLE

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Sept. 17.—Dynamite placed under the rail damaged the Prospect interurban car, injured Conductor James Speed and jolted 35 passengers at the city limits today. Explosives on the Broadway city lines last night let go just after a car passed, injuring nobody. In another part of the city a street car conductor was assaulted by four men, one of whom he shot in the groin. A little later a mob formed behind his home firing shots into the air, and hurling missiles through windows. A riot call brought the police who guarded the residence the remainder of the night. The disturbances grew out of the strike of the Louisville Railway Company's platform men who quit a month ago.

MORE DEAD IN TEXAS STORM

(By Associated Press)

Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 17.—Today, more than 70 hours after the tropical hurricane and tidal wave swept this Texas coast city and environs, it is still impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the loss of life and property damage. Each report from searchers, however, revealed the increasing magnitude of the disaster.

Officials are generally agreed that the death list will be more than a hundred, and some estimate it between 200 and 300. The estimates of property damage range from ten to fifteen million dollars. The best available information today placed the dead in this city at 47. Seventy-seven other bodies are reported washed up in the bay.

Striking Policemen Won't Be Reinstated

(By Associated Press)

MADISON URGED TO SUPPORT GOOD CAUSE

Mr. Reuben Pearlman, who was selected to act as publicity manager for the Madison County Kentucky Building Organization, is leaving no stone unturned in bringing before the people of Madison the responsibility of its citizens in helping this worthy cause, which is justly due the memory of our fallen heroes. Mr. Pearlman handed in the following editorial taken from the Courier-Journal of its issue of July 27th in which they sound the keynote to the situation. It reads as follows:

"Least We Forget"

A committee of fifty has been organized to solicit funds for the erection of a building upon the campus of the University of Kentucky as a memorial to Kentucky soldiers whose lives were sacrificed in the recent war. The campaign will be conducted September 15-20. Such a memorial should enlist the active interest of Kentuckians. The necessary funds should be raised easily.

In noble verse Kipling has expressed the need of remembering things of the spirit. The spirit of national life has kept nations in their courses and has made heroic history when treasured in the hearts of a virile people. Great Britain built the monument to Nelson, in Trafalgar Square; France placed the Arc de Triomphe upon her most beautiful thoroughfare, to inspire national spirit. Sons of Harvard University have erected Memorial Hall in memory of Harvard men lost in the war. Thus, in instances, innumerable and in all ages, the fire of the spirit has been kept alive and stimulated by a visible and permanent tribute to gallant men.

A reduced rate has been secured contingent on the attendance at the convention of not less than two hundred and fifty delegates. Tickets must be purchased not earlier than September 25th nor later than the 30th and certificates requested when ticket is bought. These certificates properly validated will entitle holder to a return ticket at one-third the normal one-way fare.

The program will be attractive and profitable. Speakers of national reputation will talk on the great problems of the day. The social features will include visits to the Capitol, Mt. Vernon, the White House, and a concert at Marine Barracks.

Officers and directors of the national organization are: Mrs. Alice French, Indiana; Mrs. C. L. F. Robinson, Connecticut; Mrs. Carrie Gibbs, Ohio; Mrs. Nora Kirkwood, Illinois; Mrs. Mary R. Rhinehart, Pennsylvania; Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, Kentucky; Mrs. E. W. Stanrod, Idaho; Mrs. R. M. Coleman, Indiana; Mrs. Edith Mettlin, Nebraska; Mrs. Oliver Harriman, New York; Mrs. John Champion, Minnesota; Mrs. Grace Fable, Kansas; Mrs. H. R. Gould, Louisiana; and Mrs. Marion Reece, North Dakota.

On the executive board of the Kentucky chapter are: Mrs. Shelly Harbison, Lexington; Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, Bowling Green; Mrs. W. G. Simpson, Frankfort; Mrs. Hardin Fields, Versailles; Mrs. J. V. Ewen, Covington; Mrs. J. A. Leech, Louisville; Mrs. Minor Simpson, Lexington; Mrs. Lev Benton, Cynthiana; Mrs. J. A. Herring, Georgetown; Mrs. R. R. Johns, Winchester; Mrs. R. R. Burnam, Richmond; Mrs. N. L. Bronnagh, Nicholasville; Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft and Mrs. Palter Payne, Paris.

Banks Help Farmers

In certain sections of Kentucky the farmer is able to buy ground limestone even in ton lots at exceptionally low figures. This is made possible by wide-awake bankers who are buying limestone in car lots so that the farmer may have it at the lowest possible price. Wherever bankers are pursuing this plan the farmers are certain to learn very rapidly the tremendous value of ground limestone even on their most fertile fields.

Leaves For California

George Folis, who has been employed as chef at the Busy Bee restaurant for several years, left Tuesday for West Oakland, California, where he has accepted a position with one of the largest cafes in that city. Folis made many friends in Richmond during his stay here, who join in wishing him success in the Golden West.

In Lee County Richardson and Robert Watson, who live near Old Landing, were arrested charged with breaking into the Haynes Williams' store at Fixer. They were held over under bond at $1,000 each.

IS MOONSHINE BEING MADE IN MADISON

Officials Have Strong Suspicion It Is, But Man Who Can Tell Is In Ohio

Is there a moonshine still being operated in Madison county?

Some of the officials believe that there is and say that they have good grounds for their belief.

In police court the other morning Walter Ballard was fined $1 and costs on a drunkenness charge. It developed that he took an automobile ride with a Mr. Dyehouse, employed by a local garage, who was hired to drive the party, John Phelps and Tom Coyle. The latter is said to have acted as pilot. They went out the Big Hill pike, turned off a road, went up a dirt road. Then, Ballard testified in court, Coyle went on by himself and pretty soon returned with some liquor, which the boys all tasted, and which seemed to have the right per cent in it to produce the required "response."

Now the officials believe that someone out in the Big Hill country has a little private still and is making moonshine, just as is done way up in the mountains, much to the uneasiness of Uncle Sam and his minions. As Tom Coyle left one evening for Ohio without giving the officers an opportunity to question him, they say that they know of no one else who can tell just where this booze came from that Walter Ballard got hold of.

BROTHER TURLEY SELLS 24 REGISTERED HOGS

Brother Turley is still selling his fine breed of hogs to parties all over the country. There seems to be a steady market for registered swine and it keeps him busy filling orders. There is no better hog raiser in the country than Brother, and what he doesn't know about hog raising isn't worth knowing. He has captured the blue ribbons at all the fairs in the state this year, and they have to be mighty fine swine when they beat his hoggings.

The following sales which have been made recently were reported this week, which will show how they are being sold all over the country:

H. F. Phillips, Elkhorn, Wis., 3 hogs.

Leonidas Cartwright, Terrill, Texas, 2 hogs.

The street car strike caused the State Fair to lose $25,000. And all indications pointed to the most successful fair that had ever been held. It wasn't the fault of Mat Cohen, though, who has made probably the best Commissioner of Agriculture that the state has ever had. The business men, of Louisville, and the strikers, too for that matter, have probably lost a lot more than the sum named above, by the foolish action of the motormen and conductors.

Judge Burnam's Death

(Frankfort State Journal)

During his services upon the Appellate Bench Judge A. R. Burnam, whose death has occurred at his home in Richmond, was a valued resident of Frankfort. His character was beyond the assailment of the bitterest partisan although he was himself a strict party man. His service upon the bench was characterized by broad mindedness, public spirit, rare ability and knowledge of the law. The Burnam home was one of culture and aristocratic distinction. Members of Judge Burnam's family enjoyed an enviable position in the social life of the State Capital and were individually popular. The death of Judge Burnam will cause genuine regret in Frankfort and the sympathy of the many who knew him in public service as well as that of the smaller number who were personally acquainted with members of the Burnam family will be with those who are bereaved.

Speaker Gillett Warns Blind Chaplin Not To Pray For League

Washington, Sept. 9—Rev. Dr. Henry M. Couden, blind chaplain of the House of Representatives, was reprimanded by speaker Gillett for praying for the League of Nations, it was disclosed in the course of a debate. Representative Heflin (Democrat) of Alabama, charged that a Republican of high position in his party had warned Chaplain Couden against uttering such prayers in the House.

"I am sorry you put politics in your prayer," Dr. Couden quoted Speaker Gillett as having said to him.

"I told Speaker Gillett I was not aware I had put politics in the prayer," Dr. Couden said to a correspondent.

Dr. Couden explained that the prayer to which Speaker Gillett took exception referred to a league such as "would spring from the hearts of the world."

He has prayed for a league of nations several times since Speaker Gillett indicated his displeasure a month ago, the Chaplain said.

"I have been chaplain of the House for 24 years, but I never before have been told I put politics in my prayers," said Dr. Couden.

Republicans laughed at Representative Heflin's charge, and he replied:

"Next year when the people of the country learn that you silenced the lips of the blind chaplain and no longer let him pray for the League of Nations, they will lash you out of control of Congress as money-makers were lashed out of the temple of Jerusalem."

To Celebrate Perryville Battle

October 8 will be the 57th anniversary of the famous Battle of Perryville, during the Civil war, and the citizens of Perryville are planning a big celebration on the battlefield on that date. The movement is looking towards making a national park of the place. Several years ago it was marked by a suitable statue, and the scene is quite a mecca for motorists, Gov. Black and other prominent Kentuckians will speak.

Showed Greatness in Youth

At the age of 14, and when a sophomore at Cambridge, Francis Bacon left the university in disgust, declaring that the whole system of education was radically wrong at Cambridge and everywhere else. And Bacon lived to prove that he was conservatively right in his contention. Swift despised his teachers because he knew more than they did, and therefore had difficulty in securing a degree.

Dr. Couden explained that the prayer to which Speaker Gillett took exception referred to a league such as "would spring from the hearts of the world."

"I have been chaplain of the House for 24 years, but I never before have been told I put politics in my prayers," said Dr. Couden.

Couldn't "Unthink"

Elizabeth had broken her precious dolly and was inconsolable. The entire family united in trying to cheer her up and make her forget her sorrow. One day soon after the catastrophe her mother found her in tears and, putting her arms about her, said: "Tell mother what's the trouble, dear." To which the little one made answer: "Oh, mother, I can't unthink about my dolly."

Discovers Heat Insulation

A new heat insulating material composed of a mixture of a special clay and cork has been discovered by a Norwegian engineer. The clay and cork mixture is burned, and the result is the formation of a very light substance that is said to be eminently suitable for all heat insulating purposes.

Nary a Blush

Said the facetious feller: "Strange as it may seem, there is no blush following financial embarrassment."

Telescoping axles have been invented by a French engineer to enable cars to be used on railroads of different gauges.

You Can't Cure Rheumatism With Liniments and Lotions

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you never will succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has no equal as a blood cleanser, scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store and get on the right treatment to-day. If you want special medical advice, address Medical Director, 49 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

MEETING AT TENT GROWS IN INTEREST

One of the most impressive services of the meeting was held last night, when Evangelist Tolle preached a tender, touching sermon on "Heaven." Mr. James Shaw effectively sang "He Included Me," the choir and audience joining in the chorus.

The text of the evening was "I go to prepare a place for you." John 14:2. The points emphasized were: That heaven is a place, we know not where; a perfect place, for a perfect people; a place whose inhabitants are the innumerable hosts of God, redeemed by the blood of Christ; a place of rest, though not of inactivity, but where we shall sing praise and glorify God. In heaven we shall know as we are known; we shall meet loved ones and friends; we shall be happy forever. The price of a home in heaven for all has been paid by the atoning blood of Christ. We inherit a mansion in glory by accepting Christ as our Savior.

At the close of the service the invitation was given for those who have a hope of heaven and those who want the prayers of God's people, to come forward. The larger part of the audience came with tear-bedecked eyes, and resulted in old fashioned hand shaking, fellowship meeting. The audience was dismissed rejoicing in the hope of heaven through the grace of God.
